COMFORT in RIDING.

MESSRS. THOMAS & SONS wish to draw the attention of Sportsmen, and especially those who are constantly in the saddle, to the many advantages of their

LACED KNEE'D RIDING BREECHES.

Buttons constantly get broken and are driven into the shin, and in cases where the breeches are too tight or too loose, they admit of no adjustment. The use of laces obviously does away with these irritating accidents, and, in addition, gives an even elastic pressure unobtainable in any other way.

None but those who have been in the saddle for many hours at a stretch can conceive the relief this simple expedient alone affords. But if any further proof were necessary, the fact that this method of fastening at the knees has proved of inestimable value in South Africa during the late war, and has been universally copied by other tailors, should be sufficient. It should be borne in mind, however, that the majority of these imitations are unsatisfactory, and are calculated to prejudice the merits of the properly made garment, which can only be obtained of us.

Ordering.—We shall be pleased to send patterns and instructions for self-measurement, free of charge, by post, anywhere.

Colonial Customers and gentlemen residing out of town need not hesitate to leave to us the selection of the cloth. Our experience teaches us that, as a rule, it is better to do so as far as possible, merely stating the requirements and whether the breeches are for incessant hard wear or only for occasional wear. To new customers we shall be glad to submit samples of cloth and prices, with particulars of the measurements we require, which can be easily taken by anyone.

HOW YOU MAY BE TALLER, BROADER, & DEEPER CHESTED

The Inventor of the "Cleave-Extensor"
Method.

F. MEREDITH CLEAVE, Ph.L.D.

Studied Anatomy three years in Dundee University.

Three years member of Physical Training Staff in British Army at Aldershot.

Director of Exercise, Haileybury College, Hertford, England.

Three years Director of Public Gymnasium of Dundee, Scotland, and of the East of Scotland Ladies' Academy. Head of Champion Gymnastic Team of England and Scotland.

Five years Physical Director of Birmingham Athletic Institute (the largest of its kind in Britain).

Author of a book, "A System of Physical Culture," now in use in all the principal National Schools of England.

Can be consulted on all matters pertaining to Increase of Stature or Improvement of Health by natural means, any day between the hours of 11 and 3 o'clock, gratuitously, at 30, New Bond Street, London, W.

The "Cleave" Method is an original system of bodily movements, which, adapted to individual needs, will do in a few weeks what it is impossible for the Army red-tape methods of Physical Training to do in years. Mr. Cleave's Method the "Cleave-Extensor" Method is the result of many years of continuous study of the human frame, and constitutes an absolutely new departure in the science of improving the body by Physical Education. It has no connection or similarity whatsoever with any other form of bodily exercise, whether it be for health or increasing the height, that is being advertised.

FREE EXPLANATORY BOOKLET AND PERSONAL ADVICE.

In order that serious enquirers can sufficiently judge the merits of this method, please state your requirements in attached list. Mr. Cleave will send a letter of personal advice and an interesting booklet fully explanatory of his system. Nothing is charged for either, which are sent post free. All correspondence strictly confidential.

A Rational and Scientific Method of increasing the Height from 1 to 2½ inches, the circumference of the chest from 3 to 6 inches, and the width of shoulders from 1 to 3 inches. These most desirable advantages can be obtained in a few weeks by the "Cleave-Extensor" Method, the Invention of F. Meredith Cleave, Ph.L.D., late member of the Aldershot Gymnastic Staff, and the outcome of 17 years of continuous study of the Physical side of Life.

The Inventor of the "Cleave-Extensor" Method is fully conscious of the fact that a perfect physique and a commanding presence are essential factors in the career of a Regular, whether he be a Private, Non-Com., or Officer; and that hundreds of Volunteers are prevented from joining the ranks either for want of height, or other physical shortcomings. The "Cleave-Extensor" Method will in a few weeks give a man that superior personal appearance that compels both respect and obedience alike from Superiors or Subordinates. Those who lack the necessary physical requirements to join His Majesty's Forces can realise their ambitions without unnecessary waste of time.

During the Afghan war he directed the military operations as Commander in Chief from September 1879 to September 1880 (received the thanks of both Houses of Parliament).

6 Lord Wolsley served with the 80th Regiment in the Burmese war of 1852-53 (Medal for Pegu), was with the expedition under Sir John Cheape against the robber chief Myattoon, and was severely wounded when leading the storming party against the chief's stronghold on the 19th March (mentioned in despatches). Served in the war of 1860 in China upon the Quarter Master General's Staff, and was present at the assault of the Taku Forts, and in all the engagements throughout the campaign (promoted Major unattached, Medal with two Clasps). Commanded the expedition sent in 1870 from Canada to the Red River Territory for the suppression of the Rebel Government established at Fort Garry against the Queen's authority, and was created a Knight of St. Michael and St. George and Companion of the Bath for his services upon that occasion (Medal). Was Governor and Commander of the Forces on the Gold Coast during the Ashanti war of 1873-74 (received the thanks of both Houses of Parliament, promoted to be Major General for Distinguished Service in the Field, GCMG, KCB, and Medal with Clasp). At a meeting of the Common Council of the Corporation of London it was unanimously resolved as follows:—"That the honorary freedom of this City, with a sword of the value of 100 guineas, be presented to Major-General Sir Garnet Joseph Wolsley, KCB, GCMG," in recognition of his gallant services in the British Army, and especially in reference to the distinguished ability and gallantry displayed by him in his command of the expedition to the Gold Coast, by which he obtained results conducive to peace, commerce, and civilisation on the continent of Africa. And this Court desires also to record its admiration of the patient endurance of hardship exhibited, and the valuable co-operation and assistance rendered to Sir Garnet Wolsley, by the gallant officers and men of both services and of all arms engaged in the expedition." Was sent to South Africa in June 1879 as Governor and High Commissioner of Natal and lands adjacent, with local rank of General. Completed the subjugation of the Zulus and brought the Zulu war to a conclusion. Afterwards overpowered Sekukuni's hostile nation and destroyed their stronghold; and finally subdued the disaffected Boers and completed the annexation of the Transvaal (GCB, Medal with Clasp). Was Commander in Chief of the British Expeditionary Army throughout the Egyptian war of 1882, in which campaign that Army in the space of 25 days effected disembarkation at Ismailia, traversed the desert, and seized the capital of Egypt together with its citadel and the rebel chief, having in that period fought and defeated the enemy five times—finally at Tel-el-Kebir where the enemy's strongly entrenched position was taken at the point of the bayonet after an arduous night march, all his guns captured, and his army overwhelmed (received the thanks of both Houses of Parliament, raised to the Peerage, promoted General for Distinguished Service in the Field, Medal with Clasp, 1st Class of the Osmanieh, and Khedive's Star). Commanded the forces in the Sudan campaign in 1884-85 (received the thanks of both Houses of Parliament, was raised to a Viscount in the Peerage and received two Clasps).

7 Earl Roberts served throughout the Indian Mutiny of 1857-58 as D.A.Q.M. On following up the retreating enemy on the 2nd January 1858, at Khodagunge, he saw in the distance two Sepoys going away with a standard. Lieutenant Roberts put spurs to his horse, and overtook them just as they were about to enter a village. They immediately turned round and presented their muskets at him, and one of the men pulled the trigger, but fortunately the cap snapped, and the standard-bearer was cut down by the gallant young Officer, and the standard taken possession of by him. He also, on the same day, cut down another Sepoy who was standing at bay, with musket and bayonet, keeping off a sowar. Lieutenant Roberts rode to the assistance of the horseman, and rushing at the sepoy, with one blow of his sword cut him across the face, killing him on the spot." Was employed on special service with the expedition of 1863 against the tribes on the North West Frontier of India, and was present at the storming of Laloo, capture of Umbeeylah and destruction of Mulkah (Medal with Clasp). Major Phipps Hornby, who commanded it, at once wheeled about and moved off at a gallop under a very heavy fire. One gun upset when a wheel horse was shot, and had to be abandoned, together with a wagon, the horses of which were killed. The remainder of the battery reached a position close to some unfinished railway buildings and came into action 1,150 yards from the spruit, remaining in action until ordered to retire. When the order to retire was received Major Phipps Hornby ordered the guns and their limbers to be run back by hand to where the teams of uninjured horses stood behind the unfinished buildings. The few remaining gunners, assisted by a number of officers and men of a party of Mounted Infantry, and directed by Major Phipps Hornby and Captain Humphreys, the only remaining officers of the battery, succeeded in running back four of the guns under shelter.

One or two of the limbers were similarly withdrawn by hand, but the work was most severe and the distance considerable. In consequence all concerned were so exhausted that they were unable to drag in the remaining limbers or the fifth gun. It now became necessary to risk the horses, and volunteers were called for from amongst the drivers, who readily responded. Several horses were killed, and men wounded, but at length only one gun and one limber were left exposed. Four separate attempts were made to rescue these, but when no more horses were available the attempt had to be given up and the gun and limber were abandoned. Meanwhile the other guns had been sent on, one at a time, and after passing within 700 or 800 yards of the enemy, in rounding the head of a donga and crossing two spruits they eventually reached a place of safety, where the battery was re-formed. After full consideration of the circumstances of the case the Field Marshal Commanding in Chief in South Africa formed the opinion that the conduct of all ranks of Q Battery, Royal Horse Artillery, was conspicuously gallant and daring, but that all were equally brave and devoted in their behaviour. He, therefore, decided to treat the case of the battery as one of collective gallantry under Rule 13 of the Victoria Cross Warrant, and directed that one officer should be selected for the decoration of the Victoria Cross by the officers, one non-commissioned officer by the non-commissioned officers, and two gunners or drivers by the gunners and drivers. A difficulty arose with regard to the officer, owing to the fact that there were only two unwounded officers—Major Phipps Hornby and Captain Humphreys—available for the work of saving the guns, and both of these had been conspicuous by their gallantry and by the fearless manner in which they exposed themselves, and each of them nominated the other for the decoration. It was ultimately decided in favour of Major Phipps Hornby as having been the senior concerned.
